Abstract: Rural Revitalization is a long-term and arduous historical task to draw a good strategic blueprint, strengthen the planning guidance, scientifically and orderly promote the comprehensive revitalization of industrial revitalization, talent revitalization, cultural revitalization, ecological revitalization and organizational revitalization. Next, we use the method of Enneagram to make a phased plan for the implementation of the Rural Revitalization Strategy.

1. Introduction

In recent years, Enneagram has been popular in the academic and business circles in Europe and America. CIA, Apple, Hewlett Packard, Citibank, and other government agencies and the management of the world's top 500 enterprises all study Enneagram, and use it to train employees, build teams, and improve execution. Moreover, Enneagram is widely used in personal growth, marriage, parent-child relationship, interpersonal communication, leadership and other fields. According to the theory of Enneagram, everyone must belong to one of the nine types. However, due to the different growth environment, people will have their own unique characteristics, but the fundamental motivation of behavior is the same. There is no difference between good and bad in the nine personalities. They all have their own strengths and weaknesses, and they all have their own suitable environment and work. Rural Revitalization is a long-term and arduous historical task to draw a good strategic blueprint, strengthen the planning guidance, scientifically and orderly promote the comprehensive revitalization of industrial revitalization, talent revitalization, cultural revitalization, ecological revitalization and organizational revitalization. Next, we use the method of Enneagram to make a phased plan for the implementation of the Rural Revitalization Strategy, which is shown as follows.

Table 1 Enneagram of Rural Revitalization Strategy

Through the understanding of nine elements of the Rural Revitalization Strategy Planning, we will compare and analyze the relationship between each model corresponding to the Enneagram and each element of the Rural Revitalization Strategy.

2. Enneagram Type 1: the Perfectionist VS. Rural Revitalization Element 1: System and Principle

Enneagram type 1 is a highly upright ideal. They focus on making things more perfect, think that people must do the right things in the right way, and have strong ideas of right and wrong and moral. They are strict with others and more demanding on themselves, pay attention to details, make painstaking efforts to pursue perfection in almost everything.

The element 1 of implementing Rural Revitalization Strategy, system and principle, is that party committees at all levels must strengthen leadership, gather all forces of the whole Party and society, grasp the political direction of Rural Revitalization Strategy, take consolidating the grassroots foundation as the fundamental policy, establish and improve the modern rural social governance system with Party committee leadership, government responsibility, social coordination, public participation and legal protection, and adhere to the combination of autonomy, rule of law and rule of virtue, so as to ensure that the rural society is dynamic, harmonious and orderly^[1].

3. Enneagram Type 2: the Giver VS. Rural Revitalization Element 2: Dedication and Contribution

Enneagram type 2 is a kind and optimistic giver who helps others to establish a good relationship. Enneagram type 2 is compassionate, dedicated and good at perceiving the subtle changes of others. They hope to become an indispensable role in other people's lives and strive to win the love of all people.

To implement the element 2 of Rural Revitalization Strategy, we need to work hard and make active contributions like Lei Feng spirit. We should take full responsibility for the Party, the country and the people, work wholeheartedly for the people, care for the people, and revere the people. We should focus on the things that the people care about, sincerely solve their problems, constantly enhance their sense of gain, happiness, and security, always keep in mind their special identity of "people's service", carry forward the spirit of serving the people.

4. Enneagram Type 3: the Performer VS. Rural Revitalization Element 3: Goal and Struggle

Enneagram type 3 is a result-oriented performer. They make themselves more valuable and become more outstanding by working hard. They are eager to succeed and never admit defeat, wise and brave, hard and diligent, strong in action, full of vitality and self-confidence.

The implementation of Rural Revitalization Strategy element 3 is goal struggle. "The old ox also understands the time is expensive, do not wait to whip up their own hooves." It can be seen that the value of "old ox" lies in the fact that it doesn't waste time to work hard. We have gone through thousands of mountains and rivers, but we still need to continue to carry forward the spirit of hard struggle of old ox, face the requirements of work, do not distract, keep a goal to the end, always maintain the style of hard struggle, tenacious spirit, forward attitude, so that our rural revitalization will be prosperous and invincible^[2].

5. Enneagram Type 4: the Romantic VS. Rural Revitalization Element 4: Vision

Enneagram type 4 is a romantic who pays attention to the inner. They are sensitive, delicate, imaginative and artistic.

The element 4 of the implementation of Rural Revitalization Strategy is vision blueprint. The strategic goal of rural revitalization is to make agriculture strong, rural beauty, and farmers rich, make agriculture a promising industry, make farmers an attractive occupation, make rural areas a beautiful home to live and work in peace and contentment, and make "prosperous industry, livable ecology, civilized rural style, effective governance, and rich life" a vivid picture.

6. Enneagram Type 5: the Observer VS. Rural Revitalization Element 5: Culture

Enneagram type 5 is a highly sensitive observer. They focus on acquiring knowledge, have a cool head and clear thinking. They are good at making rational and profound analysis of problems, and are scholarly. They pay attention to connotation, keep calm when things change, and insist on being themselves and not influenced by others.

The element 5 in the implementation of Rural Revitalization Strategy is knowledge and culture. We should adhere to the socialist core values as the guide, take the inheritance and development of Chinese excellent traditional culture as the core, take the construction of rural public cultural service system as the carrier, promote the revitalization of rural culture, and build a civilized village with neighborhood, honesty, courtesy, diligence and thrift.

7. Enneagram Type 6: the Loyal Skeptic VS. Rural Revitalization Element 6: Safety

Enneagram type 6 is a loyal skeptic. They are loyal, responsible, highly alert and crisis conscious.

They try their best to help others, pay attention to discipline, work hard and steadfastly, and pay attention to team spirit.

The element 6 of implementing the Rural Revitalization Strategy is loyal and safety. Because the Rural Revitalization Strategy is a long-term and arduous task, we should follow the law of rural construction, focus on the long term and then move, adhere to scientific planning, pay attention to quality and calm construction, be duty-bound to defend the territory of the country, and do a good job in preventing and resolving major risks^[3].

8. Enneagram Type: 7 the Epicure VS. Rural Revitalization Element 7: Innovation

Enneagram type 7 is energetic hedonists. They are always optimistic and cheerful, have quick thinking, wide interests and creativity. They dare to take risks, flexible in doing things, often feel happy, not stubborn.

The element 7 of the Rural Revitalization Strategy is uniqueness and innovation. We should deeply implement the innovation-driven development strategy, accelerate the progress of agricultural science and technology, improve the level of independent innovation and achievement transformation of agricultural science and technology, expand new space and add new momentum for agricultural development, lead and support the transformation and upgrading of agriculture to improve quality and efficiency.

9. Enneagram Type 8: the Boss VS. Rural Revitalization Element 8: Blaze New Trails

Enneagram type 8 is a strong and decisive promoter. They have a clear sense of goal, grasp the overall situation, have the courage to challenge, have the pioneering spirit, sincere and frank, do not stick to details, have a sense of justice and strong leadership.

The element 8 of Implementing Rural Revitalization Strategy is uniqueness and innovation. They are the “trendsetters” of reform and the promoters of innovation. They work hard to overcome the difficulties, dare to wade the road they have never walked, dare to open up the uncultivated wasteland, do not fear difficulties, and do not bow to the pressure, strive to open up a new situation in the changing situation, and create achievements worthy of the mission and the times. They are the pioneers in the implementation of the Rural Revitalization Strategy.

10. Enneagram Type 9: the Mediator VS. Rural Revitalization Element 9: Harmony

Enneagram type 9 is the mediator of consensus building. They conform to the times and give people an impression of natural appropriateness and calm mood, open-minded, optimistic, gentle, calm and harmonious.

The element 9 of implementation of the Rural Revitalization Strategy is harmonic intergrowth. We should fully understand the long-term and arduous nature of the Rural Revitalization task, maintain historical patience, avoid going beyond the stage of development, make overall planning, drive by typical examples, advance in an orderly manner, and do not go hand in hand. Rural Revitalization Strategy is also a process of self-adjustment and self-improvement, so as to achieve healthy and sustainable development and harmonious intergrowth between man and nature.

11. Conclusion

Through the above comparative analysis, let's take a look at the Table 1. The nine models on the figure represent the nine elements of all things in the world, which is not only the rule of the nine personality, but also the rule of the system. The elements from No. 1 to No. 9 are independent and interdependent, and have a strict order from 1 to 9.

This system can be applied not only to the major goal of Rural Revitalization Strategy, but also to every small goal in the whole process of Rural Revitalization implementation. Our marriage, family, career, community, school, organization and even our country can apply the “nine” principle, which can help us find the right position, see the direction, step on a steady pace and move towards success.
